November , 1926.

Major John Adams Warner,
Superintendent of State Police,
Albany, New York.

My dear Major Warner:

Under date of October 22nd, I asked for certain information concerning one John J. Land, to which inquiry you replied by letter dated October 25th.

I have since been informed by his friends in Rockland County that I have made an error in the name. The correct name of this man is John J. Hand and their information is that he saw service in your department at Batavia, New York in 1919.

May I ask now, if your records show the cause of the discharge of this young man.

Thanking you for your courtesy in this matter, I am

Sincerely and cordially yours,

TJW/FH
